DORCHESTER, MASS. 02122
PHONE 617 288-1100

Ladies and Gentlemen of the Media:

Once again it is my sincere privilege to extend a personal word of thanks to all members of the "Fourth Estate" in our home area of New England and throughout the National Football League.

Each of you has played an important role in the great events of our 1971 season, and every member of the Patriots family is ever-mindful of the monumental contributions made by members of the media to the success story being written by the Patriots.

The past has been filled with many wonderful developments for the Patriots organization, especially the opening of Schaefer Stadium as our first real home. The 1972 schedule gives rise to the certainty of another thrilling season; and, the long-range schedule shown below guarantees a continuation of the best for the pro football fans of New England.

Speaking for the Board of Directors and all members of the Patriots organization, may I go on record as expressing our appreciation to each of you for your contributions, encouragement, and assistance as we strive to become the best franchise in the National Football League.

Sincerely,

Bill Sullivan

WILLIAM H. SULLIVAN, JR.

WILLIAM H. SULLIVAN, JR.
PRESIDENT

"Mr. President", as William H. Sullivan, Jr. is known, has had more satisfaction crammed into the past couple of years than most men can hope for in a lifetime. But, this has come to be because Bill Sullivan has been willing — no, anxious — to work harder and give more than most men.

After a decade of trials and tribulations, despair and defeat, the period from April 4, 1970 to March 16, 1972 has been jam-packed with wonderful things for "Mr. President". A tribute to his personal magnetism may be drawn from the fact that those who know him will readily agree Bill Sullivan has earned and deserves everything he gets.

On April 4, 1970 a plot of land in Foxboro was selected as the site for a stadium Bill had envisioned and pleaded for for more than a decade. On March 16, 1972 he beamed a pre-St. Patrick's Day Irishman's smile and announced that the sale of season tickets had been cutoff at 56,043 by vote of the board of directors. Two fantastic events!

However, sandwiched in between these two memorable dates in Bill's love affair with the Patriots and professional football, were such satisfying events as: stadium ground-breaking with Commissioner Rozelle and Papa Bear Halas; his oldest son, Charles W., becoming a member of the board of directors; hiring Upton Bell as general manager—the son of old friend Bert Bell who had served as NFL Commissioner; standing with Frank Leahy at the dedication of Schaefer Stadium; seeing a record crowd of 61,457 jammed into the stadium for the Patriots upset win over Miami; declaring the first cash dividend in the club's history . . . and there's more.

But, don't get the idea everything has been peaches and cream for this tireless and dedicated worker who has progressed from a humble beginning in Lowell to rank as a top business executive and sports leader.

No sir. When Bill Sullivan faced despair, he smiled; when he was confronted with defeat, he made plans for a new battle that would bring victory; when things seemed impossible, he sought avenues of accomplishment; when the outlook appeared darkest, he looked for the sunshine. And, if "Mr. President" were not this rare type of person, there is absolutely no question the Patriots and professional football would have long since departed from the New England scene.

Bill Sullivan has travelled this course. Now, he looks back, and is fully satisfied that it has been worth the price . . . and he looks to the future with pride and the knowledge that his Patriots are towards the top of the pile where he always knew they would be.

Bill graduated from Boston College in 1937 and served as Publicity Director at his alma mater from 1938 to 1940. He had an active hand in the great "glory years of BC football" and during this period he planted the seeds for a life-long friendship with the legendary Frank Leahy who was guiding the Eagles to national fame and the bowl era.

In 1941, Bill went to Notre Dame as a Special Assistant to the Director of Athletics and in February of the following year he enlisted in the U.S. Navy. Following his naval service, he was assigned to the staff of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis.

In January of 1946, Bill became Director of Public Relations for the old Boston Braves baseball team and remained at this important post for nearly six years. While with the Braves he conceived the "Jimmy Fund" that has since grown to be an internationally known cancer research project designed to study the causes of leukemia in children. While taking part in the birth of this great fund, Bill also handled the public relations promotions for national accounts and coordinated the radio-television activities of Little League baseball.

In June of 1955, he became Assistant to the President of the Metropolitan Coal and Oil Company and less than three years later he assumed the presidency of this multi-million dollar concern, a position he still maintains.

Bill has never lost interest in his alma mater or the Naval Academy. Because of his affiliation with both schools, he was able to lure the Navy grid team to the Heights to help the Eagles dedicate their new football stadium. In addition, he authored the dedication program that became such a popular souvenir that it required a second printing.

In 1959 Bill contacted an old friend, Frank Leahy (then G. M. of the Los Angeles Chargers as well as a member of the AFL expansion committee) to tell of his desire for a franchise. "The Coach" talked with all member clubs and the request was subsequently approved on Nov. 16, 1959.

The rest is history, and Bill has been an integral part of the pro football scene, here and on a national level, ever since. He was a two-time AFL president, served on the all-important merger committee that brought the AFL and NFL together, still serves as one of the three directors of the multi-million dollar NFL Properties.

"Mr. President" and his first lady, Mary, have six children and reside in Wellesley. Charles, is a successful attorney with a prominent New York law firm. Sons Bill and Pat are still laying the ground work for their futures but continue an association with the Patriots in various capacities. The Sullivan daughters are Nancie (Mrs. Miceal Chamberlain), Jeanne (Mrs. Joseph McKeigue) and Kathleen who teaches in this area.

UPTON BELL

GENERAL MANAGER

Pro football is a way of life for Upton Bell who, at 34 years, ranks as the youngest general manager in the National Football League. What this age factor does not show are the personal ingredients of an extremely capable, knowledgeable, and dedicated young man who refuses to accept anything but first place.

This is the type of person club president William H. Sullivan, Jr. put under contract for fellow owners, directors, and the New England Patriots Football Club, Inc., when he brought Upton Bell here to run the franchise.

In the brief time he has been on the local scene, just a year and a half going into the 1972 pre-season training camp, the new general manager has set the Patriots on a course that is designed to make the total organization the best in professional football.

Although mindful of the Patriots' struggles and accomplishments of the past, Bell is dedicated to the present and the future in order to lend his touch to what he terms, "The Patriots total commitment to winning."

During his first 18 months as the Patriots top executive, Bell has expended all his energies in the direction of revamping the entire organizational structure.

On the football front his trading, drafting, shrewd use of the waiver wire, and acquisition of free agents, he has put new, young blood into the Patriots roster.

Behind the football scene he has brought a new look to the personnel department by getting the Patriots into the nationwide CEPO scouting combine and expanding the entire operation.

The Patriots were at the bottom of the NFL pile when Bell took over as general manager. In a year and a half there has been a marked upswing, and the climb is still in progress.

Bell was born into pro football. His baby-sitters were the robust guys who played for his father's (Bert Bell) Philadelphia Eagles team in the NFL. Later, during his father's 14-year reign as pro football's Commissioner, Bell met just about everyone associated with the NFL.

A native of Philadelphia where he attended Malvern Prep School and LaSalle College where he was regarded as a top basketball prospect, Bell entered pro football in 1960, the same year the Patriots were putting a team on the field for the first time.

His baptism came with the Baltimore Colts via the non-glamorous chores of cleaning up the locker room, chauffeuring players to and from the airport, and performing menial office chores . . . all for $65 per week. But, he worked hard and he learned fast . . . and was elevated to serve as assistant to talent scout Keith Molesworth. Upon the latter's death in 1966, Bell was named Director of Player Personnel for the Colts. He was on the move.

During his five year term at Baltimore, Bell played a major role in building the Colts into the No. 1 team in pro football, a distinction they earned by winning the Super Bowl championship in 1971 after appearing in the same game in 1970.

His evaluation of players and their potential was directly responsible for nearly half the players on the Colts Super Bowl roster for the upset victory over Dallas. It was Bell who fingered the likes of Bubba Smith, Jim O'Brien (who kicked the game winning field goal), Ted Hendricks, Eddie Hinton and Norm Bulaich. Seven of his 1970 draftees made the squad and appeared in the Super Bowl, a testimonial to Bell's power of judgement.

Since coming to the Patriots he has exerted his demand for total up-grading of the organization by assembling a front office staff of professionals who operate at peak efficiency and production.

Taking both aspects of the Patriots into account—football and front office—Bell pledges, "The people of New England are great pro football fans and deserve nothing short of the best. I know the Patriots can be the greatest franchise in the National Football League . . . and, that's exactly what we, all of us—coaches, players, front office people—are committed to reaching."

Bell "sells" the Patriots during every waking moment. He makes countless speaking engagements at which he can spread the name and accomplishments of the team, he has set a television package of preseason games that is the envy of many other clubs, he has arranged for the added exposure of a special Monday night "Patriots Highlights" show on television that will give the fans a new insight into the players and display another side of the organization. He is making the rest of the NFL sit up and take notice of the Patriots.

Upton Bell has added a new dimension to the New England Patriots, a viable and productive element that reaches into every facet of the organization. He has instilled a new sense of importance into each department as he continues to point out that each area is as important as the other in the overall picture. That the ticket office and public relations factors are on an equal footing with drafting and players. In essence, Bell is overseeing the proper mixture of football activity with business and financial responsibility and success.

Bell and his wife, Ann, have one son, Christopher, and they reside in Milton.

JOHN MAZUR

Head Coach

BIRTHDATE — June 17, 1930
BIRTHPLACE — Plymouth, Pa.
COLLEGE — Notre Dame '52
SEASONS IN COACHING — 18
YEAR WITH PATRIOTS — 4

Ever since his high school days, winning and football have gone hand-in-hand so far as John Mazur is concerned. There has never been any other way with him . . . and that's exactly what he has in mind for the New England Patriots.

Football has been in Mazur's blood since he kicked up dust in the open lots of his native Plymouth, Pennsylvania. Winning has been the result of the effort he has been willing to put into the sport. And, this has always been 110 per cent.

As the Patriots head coach, Mazur carries the awesome responsibility of "putting it all together" on the football field. The team, all 40 guys who go out there to do battle, reflects his attitude, desires and character. Because of this factor, there has been a decided change in the Patriots under his leadership—a change that has seen the team come from a 2-12, disorganized bunch of football players in 1971 to a 6-8, confident "team" in 1972. And, the best has yet to come.

Look at the man's past history, and you'll get a good indication of his future. With Mazur it has been a string of successful accomplishments.

As a schoolboy athlete he was one of the best in the state, sought after by countless colleges around the country. And, rightfully so.

As a high school basketball player his team racked up 69 straight victories; as a baseball player he was good enough to be chased by the old St. Louis Browns who wanted him under contract; as a football player he was eyed by many college coaches.

There was never any question with young John Mazur. Football was his sport. By the same token, there was never any question about the college colors he would wear. He could have enrolled at any number of top-ranked colleges . . . but not him. He accepted the biggest and toughest challenge possible by electing to enter Notre Dame. Mazur comes from coal-miner stock, and those people are not accustomed to backing away from a challenge.

While with the Fighting Irish he came under the influence of one of college football's most dynamic and capable mentors, Frank Leahy. "The Coach" made an indelible impression on Mazur, an influence that continues to motivate him to this very day.

Mazur was a member of the Notre Dame team that soared to the national collegiate football championship in 1949, and he quarterbacked the Irish through the 1950 and '51 seasons.

After a stint as an officer in the United States Marine Corps., Mazur moved into the pro football picture for the first time as quarterback for the Vancouver, B. C. Lions of the Canadian Football League. An injury forced the end of this brief career, and John launched his colleae coaching career as an assistant at Tulane in New Orleans.

Mazur's first association with New England came when he accepted a post as assistant coach at Boston University. While with the Terriers he met Lou Saban who was then head coach of the Patriots, and when the latter moved on to take control of the Buffalo Bills he fingered John as his chief offensive aide.

Seven great years followed. Mazur and winning were at it again as he developed the two quarterback system with Daryle Lamonica and Jackie Kemp that fired Buffalo to three division championships and two AFL crowns.

When Clive Rush was named head coach of the Patriots in 1969, Mazur was the first assistant he hired and handed him the responsibility of being offensive coordinator.

In the middle of the 1970 campaign, Mazur was moved into the top spot with a team that had a 1-6 record and was on the brink of exploding. Again, he had met the stiff challenge head on . . . and beat the odds.

The results of his efforts during the 1971 season are still fresh in the minds of all Patriots fans. The grooming of Jim Plunkett, the rebirth of team morale, the 6-8 record with its upset wins over Oakland, Baltimore and Miami.

In the drive towards this coveted championship, Mazur has surrounded himself with a staff of assistants in whom he is justifiably proud . . . Dick Evans, Sam Rutigliano, Tom Fletcher, John Meyer, Jerry Stoltz, Burnie Miller, and Bruce Beatty.

Looking ahead to the 1972 campaign, Mazur says, "We are totally committed to winning, and we will strive to continue the improvement begun last year, but we will not be satisfied until we have reached our real goal—the Super Bowl."

Mazur and his wife, Bernadine, reside in Natick with their two children, Cynthia and John, Jr.

THE SCOUTING DEPARTMENT

FRANK "BUCKO" KILROY

Director of Player Personnel

BOISTURE

HICKEY

TERPENING

STEINBERG

FESTA

One of the first moves made by Upton Bell when he took over as general manager was to focus attention on the personnel department.

Bell's first major accomplishment was a complete revision of this crucial area that is devoted to ferreting out the most promising players on the collegiate front.

In rapid order, the general manager used his influence to get the Patriots into a national scouting combine (CEPO), re-assigned Rommie Loudd to be Director of Pro Personnel, lured master-scout Bucko Kilroy from Dallas to head the Pats personnel department, and beefed up the operation with full-time scouts.

Under Bucko's supervision, the Patriots scouting department is already one of the best in the NFL. A former Philadelphia great of 13-years standing, Kilroy is the senior scout in pro football and regarded as an excellent judge of talent.

Tom Boisture, Bob Terpening and Mike Hickey were the first full-time scouts hired. Dick Steinberg and John Festa have since joined the team of talent scouts.

Boisture had eight years of college coaching under his belt before joining the Patriots; Terpening came here from the Baltimore personnel department; Hickey is the youngest scout in the NFL at 25 years; Steinberg has had seven years of college coaching and scouting; Festa has the monumental job of heading the office administration in addition to scouting work.

Boisture launched his coaching career as head man at Austin Catholic High School in Detroit where he doubled as football and baseball mentor. One of his more famous charges during this period was Dave DeBusschere who went on to fame with the New York Knicks.

Tom moved to the University of Houston as backfield coach where he served from 1962 to 1965. In 1967 he took over the faltering Holy Cross grid team for a two-year term after serving one season as assistant coach.

Prior to joining the Patriots, Boisture was an assistant coach at Tulsa.

Hickey, a robust 6.6 inch, 275-pounder, hails from Los Angeles and is the son of former San Francisco head coach and present Dallas Cowboy scout "Red" Hickey.

During his collegiate playing days Mike was tight end for the San Diego State Aztecs who won the Small College championship in 1967. Knee injuries wrecked his hopes for a pro career.

Terpening served under Bell in the Colts personnel department after serving as head coach at Baltimore City College High School.

He had served as assistant coach at the same school from 1965 through 1968 before succeeding George Young as the head man.

"Terp" is a graduate of Shepherd College in West Virginia where he was a standout defensive tackle who went on to play semi-pro ball with Daytona of the Southern League.

Former general manager George Sauer, a man with a wealth of experience in scouting and coaching, supplements the fulltime staff by specializing as the Patriots talent scout in the Southwest Conference and that general area of the country.

In more than three decades on the football front, Sauer has had a hand in every phase of the game and is highly regarded for his judgement of collegiate talent.

VOICES OF THE PATRIOTS

The Patriots will have a new look in the area of radio and television coverage during the 1972 season.

Gil Santos, who has been associated with the Pats for the past six years, will be back for his second season as the play-by-play man for radio broadcasts of all Patriots games over WBZ. Joining him this season as the color commentator will be former Patriots all-time great Gino Cappelletti.

The Patriots will take a giant step into the local television scene via WBZ-TV (channel 4). Two of the country's most out-standing sportscasters, Ken Coleman and Dick Stockton, will collaborate to present all six Patriots pre-season games on channel 4, and then serve as co-hosts for a special Monday night half hour show, "Patriots Highlights", over the same channel.

1971 REVIEW

SEPT. 19: AT FOXBORO (ATT. 55,405)

Oakland	0	6	0	0 — 6
Patriots	0	0	14	6 — 20

O — Banaszak, 4 run (kick failed)
NE — Sellers, 33 pass from Plunkett (Gogolak kick)
NE — Moss, 20 pass from Plunkett (Gogolak kick)
NE — Gogolak, 46 FG
NE — Gogolak, 22 FG

Pats celebrated first regular season game ever played at Schaefer Stadium with upset victory over Raiders . . . Plunkett made his NFL regular season debut by completing 6 of 15 passes for 127 yards and 2 TD's . . . Garrett paced the ground attack with 78 yards on 16 attempts . . . Strong defensive play, led by Dennis Wirgowski and Larry Carwell, caused Oakland to make numerous mistakes . . . six fumbles, two bad center snaps, and a missed 21-yard field goal attempt spelled Oakland's doom.

SEPT. 26: AT FOXBORO (ATT. 61,057)

Detroit	3	14	3	14 — 34
Patriots	0	0	7	0 — 7

D — Mann, 23 FG
D — Taylor, 3 run (Walker kick)
D — Lucci, 25 interception return (Walker kick)
D — Mann, 27 FG
NE — Vataha, 61 pass from Plunkett (Gogolak kick)
D — Owens, 74 pass from Landry (Mann kick)
D — Owens, 2 run (Mann kick)

Lions jumped off to a 20-0 lead, converting three turnovers into TD's . . . Pats fans got first look at Plunkett-to-Vataha scoring combination in the third period via a 61-yard TD play . . . Cheyunski was the Pats defensive standout with 13 unassisted tackles (also 7 assists) . . . Nance made first appearance and led Pats rushers with 65 yards on 11 carries.

OCT. 3: AT FOXBORO (ATT. 61,232)

Baltimore	14	3	0	6 — 23
Patriots	0	3	0	0 — 3

B — Matte, 2 run (O'Brien kick)
B — Nottingham, 1 run (O'Brien kick)
NE — Gogolak, 34 FG
B — O'Brien, 42 FG
B — O'Brien, 41 FG
B — O'Brien, 50 FG

Colts dominated every statistical category . . . their defense limited Plunkett to 62 passing yards . . . Outlaw's 19-yard interception return of a Morrall pass setup Pats only score, a 34-yard Gogolak field goal just before halftime . . . O'Brien set Schaefer Stadium mark with 50-yard field goal in second period . . . Garrett was Pats leading rusher with 39 yards.

OCT. 10: AT FOXBORO (ATT. 61,357)

New York	0	0	0	0 — 0
Patriots	0	0	13	7 — 20

NE — Vataha, 15 pass from Plunkett (kick failed)
NE — Sellers, 6 pass from Plunkett (Gogolak kick)
NE — Nance, 50 run (Gogolak kick)

Poor, rainy weather caused problems . . . nine fumbles in the game, each team lost two . . . Kiner and Wirgowski led Patriots' defensive unit to first regular season shutout since 1969 . . . Plunkett connected on two second period scoring aerials to Vataha and Sellers . . . Nance surpassed the 5000-yard career rushing mark with a fourth period 50-yard TD romp . . . Pats gained statistical superiority over an opponent for the first time in season . . . established season highs in total offense and rushing yardage . . . Namath-less Jets managed meager 8 yards net passing yardage . . . Pats earned first regular season victory over the Jets since 1965 . . . First shutout in Jets history.

OCT. 17: AT MIAMI (ATT. 58,822)

Patriots	0	3	0	0 — 3
Miami	21	10	7	3 — 41

M — Twilley, 22 pass from Griese (Yepremian kick)
M — Warfield, 32 pass from Griese (Yepremian kick)
M — Twilley, 14 pass from Griese (Yepremian kick)
NE — Gogolak, 51 FG
M — Yepremian, 34 FG
M — Warfield, 14 pass from Griese (Yepremian kick)
M — Kiick, 1 run (Yepremian kick)
M — Yepremian, 42 FG

Miami's offensive unit scored the first three times it handled the ball . . . Griese heaved four TD passes . . . Gogolak's second period 51-yard field goal was his longest of the season, and averted the shutout . . . Patriots' running game was stymied by the strong Dolphin defense led by Buoniconti . . . Pats did not penetrate past Miami's 30-yard line during the game . . . Regular season record dropped to 2-3.

OCT. 24: AT IRVING, TEXAS (ATT. 65,708)

Patriots	7	0	0	14 — 21
Dallas	10	24	0	10 — 44

D — Thomas, 56 run (Clark kick)
D — Clark, 16 FG
NE — Nance, 1 run (Gogolak kick)
D — Staubach, 2 run (Clark kick)
D — Clark, 17 FG
D — Hayes, 35 pass from Staubach (Clark kick)
D — Hayes, 28 pass from Staubach (Clark kick)
D — Clark, 12 FG
NE — Vataha, 33 pass from Plunkett (Gogolak kick)
D — Williams, 2 run (Clark kick)
NE — Beer, 31 pass from Plunkett (Gogolak kick)

Dallas celebrated opening of new Texas Stadium with high-scoring victory . . . Cowboys scored on the fourth play of the game on Thomas' 56-yard run . . . Nance tallied his second TD of the season on 1-yard plunge to bring Pats within three points, 10-7 . . . Staubach threw two TD passes and scored on a two-yard run to spark Dallas' second period scoring spree . . . Plunkett connected on scoring strikes to Vataha and Beer in final period . . . Largest crowd of the season to view Patriots in action.

OCT. 31: AT SAN FRANCISCO (ATT. 45,092)

Patriots	0	0	7	3 — 10
San Francisco	7	6	0	14 — 27

SF — Willard, 1 run (Gossett kick)
SF — Gossett, 35 FG
SF — Gossett, 41 FG
NE — Vataha, 23 pass from Plunkett (Gogolak kick)
NE — Gogolak, 32 FG
SF — G. Washington, 71 pass from Brodie (Gossett kick)
SF — Blue, 25 fumble return (Gossett kick)

Pats rallied from 13-0 deficit to 13-10 in fourth period . . . Plunkett to Vataha 23-yard aerial and Gogolak field goal drew Pats within three points . . . 49ers scored on first play after field goal on 71-yard Brodie to Washington pass play, and iced victory with 25-yard fumble return by Blue . . . Pats defense played fine game, holding 49er rushers to just 71 yards and collecting three interceptions . . . Kiner and Harris led defensive stats with six tackles each.

NOV. 7: AT FOXBORO (ATT. 53,155)

Houston	0	6	7	7 — 20
Patriots	7	7	0	14 — 28

NE — Bryant, 10 pass from Plunkett (Gogolak kick)
H — Moseley, 25 FG
NE — Maitland, 2 run (Gogolak kick)
H — Moseley, 41 FG
H — Joiner, 28 pass from Pastorini (Moseley kick)
H — Pastorini, 1 run (Moseley kick)
NE — Nance, 4 run (Gogolak kick)
NE — Garrett, 2 run (Gogolak kick)

Pats jumped off to a 14-3 lead in first half, but Oilers fought back to go ahead, 20-14 early in the final period . . . Timely interceptions by Kiner and Cheyunski set up final two scores for New England . . . Maitland and Bryant scored their only TD's of the year on the receiving end of Plunkett passes . . . Garrett and Nance ground scores wrapped things up.

NOV. 14: AT FOXBORO (ATT. 57,446)

Buffalo	7	13	10	3 — 33
Patriots	7	21	7	3 — 38

B — Hill, 68 punt return (Leypoldt kick)
NE — Vataha, 16 pass from Plunkett (Gogolak kick)
NE — Beer, 10 pass from Plunkett (Gogolak kick)
B — Briscoe, 15 pass from Harris (Leypoldt kick)
B — Leypoldt, 17 FG
NE — Garrett, 80 pass from Plunkett (Gogolak kick)
NE — Moss, 10 blocked punt return (Gogolak kick)
B — Leypoldt, 48 FG
NE — Crabtree, 31 pass from Plunkett (Gogolak kick)
B — Leypoldt, 17 FG
B — James, 2 fumble return (Leypoldt kick)
NE — Gogolak, 38 FG
B — Leypoldt, 12 FG

Wildest game of the year . . . 71 points scored in the game without a point being scored on the ground . . . lead changed hands four times . . . Pats' special teams gave up first TD of the season on Ike Hill's 68-yard punt return, but came back to gain their first tally of the campaign on Moss' 10-yard blocked punt return . . . Plunkett fired 80-yard pass to Garrett for longest Pats scoring play to date . . . Plunkett had his finest outing of the year, 9 for 16 passing for 218 yards and 4 TD's . . . Pats boosted season's record to 4-5.

NOV. 21: AT CLEVELAND (ATT. 65,238)

Patriots	0	7	0	0 — 7
Cleveland	10	0	7	10 — 27

C — Kelly, 7 pass from Nelsen (Cockroft kick)
C — Cockroft, 34 FG
NE — Beer, 18 pass from Plunkett (Gogolak kick)
C — Pitts, 35 pass from Nelsen (Cockroft kick)
C — Kelly, 1 run (Cockroft kick)
C — Cockroft, 31 FG

First meeting ever of these two teams . . . Pats bid to boost the season's record to the .500 level was sidetracked by strong Cleveland defense, led by linebacker Andrews (2 interceptions) . . . Browns moved out to a 10-0 first period lead, and Pats were forced to play first period catchup for the eighth time in ten games . . . Pats offense was slowed by four pass interceptions and a blocked field goal . . . Second largest crowd of the season to see Patriots in action.

DEC. 12: AT NEW YORK (ATT. 63,175)

Patriots	0	3	0	3 — 6
New York	3	0	10	0 — 13

NY — Howfield, 16 FG
NE — Gogolak, 34 FG
NY — Riggins, 1 run (Howfield kick)
NY — Howfield, 42 FG
NE — Gogolak, 47 FG

Pats lost their chance for a possible .500 season when they dropped hard-fought battle . . . Each team kicked two field goals, but the deciding score came in the opening seconds of the second half when Wise recovered fumble on the Pats' one-yard line . . . Riggins blasted over for the only TD of the contest . . . Pats stopped two New York drives within the 10-yard line in the second period . . . Outlaw recovered a fumble in the end zone for a touchback and Carwell intercepted a Namath-to-Maynard pass on the Pats' 7-yard line . . . Pats defense held Namath to 95 yards . . . Pats lost sixth straight Shea Stadium appearance, last victory there was Nov. 28, 1965.

DEC. 19: AT BALTIMORE (ATT. 57,942)

Patriots	0	14	0	7 — 21
Baltimore	0	3	7	7 — 17

NE — Vataha, 2 pass from Plunkett (Gogolak kick)
B — O'Brien, 12 FG
NE — Outlaw, 60 interception return (Gogolak kick)
B — Hinton, 31 pass from Unitas (O'Brien kick)
NE — Vataha, 88 pass from Plunkett (Gogolak kick)
B — Hinton, 13 pass from Unitas (O'Brien kick)

Patriots pulled off their second major upset in the final three games . . . first victory ever over the Colts, and first regular season win over a former NFL team since the merger . . . Plunkett completed 10 of 17 passes for 170 yards, including two TD tosses to Vataha . . . fourth period 88-yard Plunkett-to-Vataha pass was longest in Pats history . . . Pats defense gave up two Unitas-to-Hinton TD passes, but also intercepted two aerials . . . Outlaw returned one interception 60 yards for a TD, longest of the season . . . Pats-Colts series record stands at 1-3.

NOV. 28: AT BUFFALO (ATT. 27,166)

Patriots	3	3	7	7 — 20
Buffalo	0	17	0	10 — 27

NE — Gogolak, 40 FG
B — J. D. Hill, 11 pass from Shaw (Leypoldt kick)
NE — Gogolak, 17 FG
B — J. D. Hill, 47 pass from Shaw (Leypoldt kick)
B — Leypoldt, 48 FG
NE — Nance, 1 run (Gogolak kick)
B — Simpson, 7 run (Leypoldt kick)
NE — Sellers, 12 pass from Plunkett (Gogolak kick)
B — Leypoldt, 41 FG

Shaw tossed two TD passes to J. D. Hill as the Bills avenged earlier 38-33 defeat . . . Kiner led Pats defensive unit with 8 tackles and five assists . . . Cornerback James plagued Pats for second straight game, intercepting two passes . . . Garrett had an outstanding day rushing for 127 yards, catching two passes for 35 yards and ripping off a 50-yard punt return . . . Pats had two chances to score in the final two minutes, but four incomplete passes and a roughing the kicker penalty killed the rally.

DEC. 5: AT FOXBORO (ATT. 61,457)

Miami	7	3	3	0 — 13
Patriots	17	3	14	0 — 34

M — Morris, 94 kickoff return (Yepremian kick)
NE — Nance, 6 run (Gogolak kick)
NE — Vataha, 26 pass from Plunkett (Gogolak kick)
NE — Gogolak, 37 FG
M — Yepremian, 26 FG
NE — Gogolak, 35 FG
M — Yepremian, 30 FG
NE — Vataha, 25 pass from Plunkett (Gogolak kick)
NE — Carwell, 53 interception return (Gogolak kick)

Patriots earned the second of three major upsets of the season as they rallied from a 7-0 deficit for fifth victory in twelve outings . . . Morris' 94-yard return of the opening kickoff put the Dolphins ahead at the outset, but the Pats stormed back to tie the score on a 58-yard drive, climaxed by Nance's six-yard run . . . Plunkett tossed his first of two TD passes to Vataha later in the period, and the Pats were never headed . . . Carwell's 53-yard interception of Griese's pass in the third period clinched the victory . . . Weisacosky and Webb led the Pats defense which limited Miami's vaunted running game to just 98 yards . . . Plunkett had an outstanding passing day, connecting on 16 of 23 for 233 yards and two TDs . . . All-time record crowd for Pats home game.

MEMORIAL AWARDS

George L. Sargent Memorial Trophy

George L. Sargent was a co-founder of the Patriots and at the time of his untimely death on April 10, 1962, he was serving the team as Treasurer, Vice-President, and member of the Board of Directors.

His name is carried on within the organization by his wife, Mrs. George L. Sargent, and his son, Lee, both of whom are members of the Board of Directors.

The memorial plaque, established by a group of his closest friends, is presented annually to the Patriots most valuable player as selected by his teammates at the close of the season.

Past winners are:

Year	Player	Position
1962	Babe Parilli,	Quarterback
1963	Larry Garron,	Running Back
1964	Gino Cappelletti,	Kicker-Receiver
1965	Nick Buoniconti,	Linebacker
1966	Jim Nance,	Running Back
1967	Tommy Addison,	Linebacker
1968	Houston Antwine,	Defensive Tackle
1969	Mike Taliaferro,	Quarterback
1970	Jimmy Hunt,	Defensive Tackle
1971	Don Webb,	Defensive Back

John B. Gillooly Memorial Award

The Board of Directors voted by acclamation to establish the John B. Gillooly Memorial Award in honor of the mild-mannered and witty columnist of the Record American - Sunday Advertiser shortly after his sudden death on May 17, 1968.

The award is presented to the New England journalist — writer, sportscaster or cartoonist — who best exemplifies the high qualities of the late columnist and is determined by a vote of media members throughout the six state area.

Past winners:

Year	Winner	Affiliation
1969	Tim Horgan,	Herald-Traveler columnist.
1970	Ray Fitzgerald,	Globe columnist.
1971	Bob Coyne,	Record-American cartoonist.
1972	Don Gillis,	channel 5 Sportscaster.

SCHAEFER STADIUM . . . INCREDIBLE!

Incredible! That's the adjective most frequently used by those who view Schaefer Stadium and listen to the fantastic story behind the construction of this gigantic monument to the magnetism of professional football and the loyal fans who did not want to lose it. Only those who lived with the "stadium situation" for more than a decade will ever truly appreciate the merit of that one word testimonial. Incredible!

After years of frustration, rebuff and rejection, and faced with the loss of a pro football team that had been fighting against nearly impossible odds to survive in this region, the "stadium situation" virtually exploded nothingness to reality.

In between these two states is the incredible tale . . . theater magnate and raceway owner E. M. Loew offering free land as a stadium site; interested town leaders, led by Selectman Jerry Rodman, uncovering a 98.3 per cent approval of the project at a Special Town Meeting; the financial genius of Phil David Fine getting the "Trust" together; Patriots president William H. Sullivan, Jr. expending himself to assure success of the stock offering; structural specialist Dan Marr, Jr., another of the Pats owners, working tirelessly with designer Dave Berg, consulting architects Finch/Heery of Atlanta, and the J. F. White Construction Co.

The aforementioned, along with all Patriots owners, directors and 2600 stockholders, the 4000 of the Realty Trust, and the people of Foxboro, did, indeed, write an incredible page in the annals of professional football.

This beautiful edifice is under the management of a five man board of trustees. Heading the group is Managing Trustee Fine who is joined by David W. Donahue, Rexford A. Bristol, Joseph P. Healey and Robert H. Watts.

The Schaefer Stadium story has been "incredible" . . . but, with the Patriots on the move, the best is yet to come!
